"SPECIAL EVENT FOR TEEN PARENTS!"

July 28, 2005

Ann Arbor, MI- On Tuesday, August 16, 2005 Ozone House, a non-profit agency that provides housing and support services to youth, will hold its first ever "411 for Parenting and Fun" event for pregnant and parenting teens [25 and under].

This FREE event, planned by the Ozone House YMI (Youth Making an Impact) group will be held from 11-2 PM at Prospect Park in Ypsilanti and will feature family portraits (call early to reserve a time slot), a barbeque, carnival games, a cake walk, crafts, community resources, a relaxation tent and more!

The 411 will have plenty of activities for children, so youth are encouraged to bring their kids along (all children must be accompanied by an adult). There will also be plenty of tables, chairs, and refreshments for folks, so please join us! Again, this event is free!

For more information please call Ozone House at 662-2222 and ask for Mia White.

* There will be plentiful photo opportunities at this event: children and face painting, families, nonprofit resources, etc. Please join us if you can!
